JAKE COSDEN

Jake Cosden is a comedian and writer. Born in California, he resides in New Orleans and performs around the country. He co-created a children's book called "President of the Zoo". A humanist, he believes strongly that only three types of people exist: people who can count, and people who can't.

JOY WILLS

Joy Wills got her start in comedy while living in Charlotte, NC but now performs stand up all across the country. She's opened for comedians such as Dave Attell, Big Jay Oakerson and Jared Freid across the U.S. and also performs festivals throughout the Southeast. Underneath her deadpan exterior you will find a charismatic wit and little to no muscle mass.

SEAN DONNELLY

When he's not walking around looking like fisherman Sean can be found eadlining clubs and festivals all over the country. He has appeared on The Late Show with David Letterman, Conan, Colbert, The Tonight Show with Jimmy Fallon and NBC's Last Comic Standing.
